

VISIBLE CITIES

*Lockdown to liberation, stress to sustainability:
Aotearoa fiction inspired by Italo Calvino*

Edited by Marco Sonzogni, Sydney J Shep & Daniel K Brown
Artwork by William du Toit

Marco Sonzogni is a reader in translation studies and intercultural communication at Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington. A widely published scholar, he is also an award-winning translator, poet, editor and cultural activist.

Sydney J Shep is a reader in book history and the printer at Wai-te-ata Press, Te Herenga Waka—Victoria University of Wellington. A widely published scholar, she is also a practising letterpress printer, exhibiting book artist and designer bookbinder.

VISIBLE CITIES

*Lockdown to liberation, stress to sustainability:
Aotearoa fiction inspired by Italo Calvino*

Edited by Marco Sonzogni, Sydney J Shep
& Daniel K Brown
Drawings by William du Toit

To be released October 2023

ISBN 978-1-98-859574-0

RRP $30 • 128mm × 198mm • 162 pp softcover • short fiction anthology

- features 11 emerging Aotearoa authors under 30
- third collection of original Kiwi writing commissioned by Marco Sonzogni, following Breach of All Size and More Favourable Waters

The celebrated Italian writer Italo Calvino's novel Invisible Cities explores the intersection of reality and imagination through 11 startling themes, from 'Cities and Desire' to 'Trading Cities' to 'Cities and the Dead'. A hundred years after his birth, 11 emerging writers from Aotearoa have each taken a city from their own country and written a short story that pays tribute to Calvino's work while addressing the themes that besiege cities in the twenty-first century.

Ōtepoti Dunedin

Ōtautahi Christchurch

Tāmaki Makaurau Auckland

Kirikiriōroa Hamilton

Te Whanganui-a-Tara Wellington

Te Papaioea Palmerston North

Story Writers

Aimee-Jane Anderson-O'Connor • Russell Boey • Dinithi Nelum Bowatte • Jack Remiel Cottrell
Erin Donohue • Madison Hamill • Melanie Kwang • Marlon Moala-Knox
Nkhaya Paulsen-More • William Pigott • Elsie Uini

Sales / distribution: David Bateman

Bryce Gibson • bryceg@bateman.co.nz • 09 415 7664

www.thecubapress.nz • hello@thecubapress.nz • Box 9321, Wellington 6141